Infayette Tigers,

PRINCETON, N. J., October 16.—

Neither Princeton nor Lafayette was able to zore in their annual football game to-day. It was the first time in Lafayette's history that she has prevented Princeton from scoring, and in celebration of the occurrence, a number of Lafayette's players pounced upon Waller, Princeton's left guard, who was acting captain in the absence of Eddie Dillon, in an effort to obtain possession of the ball. A fight ensued that was seen queried by trainers and coaches. With Captain Dillon, the guarterback, unable to play on account of injuries, and with seven other men on the sick list, to-day's tie score was not altogether unexpected. Princeton had several chances to score in the second half. Lafayette clearly outplayed Princeton in the first half.

NEW YORK. October 10.—These sixround bouts certainly seem to be a case of straining at a gnat and awallowing a camel.

If it is not a violation of the law for two men to fight for a purse for eighteen minutes, when it is practically impossible for a satisfactory decision to be reached, if the men are at all evenly matched, and when the referee is forbidden to give a decision, why should it be unlawful for the same two men to fight for the same purse until one of them was beaten, or why should it be a violation of law for the referee to say which of them had the best of it?

All of this comes of the recent bout between Leach Cross and Willie Fitzgerald.
One expert says Cross won the bout hands of the part beautiful to the rest sider her.

Charley White, the popular referse of this vicinity, who has been the third man in the ring in more battles than any other referse in the East, has been selected to reteree the middleweight championship but the hetween Billy Papke and Huge Kelly, the Italien middlewight, which is to be decided at the Milwankee Boxing Club on October 15th. All the prominent referees were named for the job, but when White's name was mentioned the managers of both men promptly accepted him.

men promptly accepted him.

Jimmy Britt, the clever California light-weight, who has been in England for a few months, is going to fight over there. In a letter to a friend in this city, Jimmy says that he has been matched to meet tohnary Summers, an English lightweight, for ten rounds at a boxing show to be brought off at Wonderland on November 21. They will battle for a purse of $5,000, of which the winner will get $3,750 and the loser $1,250. "It hink there are still a few more good lights in me," writes Britt, "and on that account I think I will beat Summers, an the latter fought some good lights while he was in this country.

Joe Humphreys who was managed.

Joe Humphreys, who was manager of Terry McGovern when Terry was in the fighting business, last night received an effect from a fight promoter of Haltimore for McGovern to meet some good lightweight in a fitteen-round bout in that city next mouth, and offering Humphreys $1,500 with a privilege of 40 per cent of the receipts for McGovern's end. Humphreys declined the offer, saying that McGovern would never fight again.

POINTS IN BREEDING

Vitality and Individuality the Keynotes of Success in Raising Animals.

No farmer can afford to breed any

BY JOHN H. CHAFFIN.

After twenty years' experience in breeding hundreds of horses, dogs, hogs and cattle, I have often wondered at the difference between brothers and gisters, and also the great difference in the offspring of a horse of vitality and the offspring of a better pedigreed horse whose vitality has been sapped to the uttermost, but who apparently was still a good individual. I know nothing in nature that better explains this condition than the apparently sound grain that has been overheated. If sown, as it often is, this grain produces a weakly, slekly plaint that yields a poor crop. .tality is the foundation of success in breeding all kinds of animals. It is the pedigree of failure. One of the laws of nature is, that like produces like. You surely reap what you sow. When you have a long line of weak constitutions to draw from, no matter how rich the blood lines, you will set long pedigrees and weak constitutions, and one hundred weeds to one stalk of grain.

Animals of this character require a trained nurse through life, and a pediting the control of the country of the stock was a dors.

Kind of stock unless the stock has vitality. This is the power that combatts disease, overcomes difficulties, utilizes waste and manufactures all the products of his farm into the highest priced commedities. Without vitality, grow sickiy and die quickly. The poorest of us can utilize as much as the product of the five great bless-inks given to man, and these four out of the five great bless-inks given to man, and these produces if the four out of the five great bless-inks given to man, and these, properly water and exercise. These, combined with food, produce vitality and to keep it is any one of the ingredients.
